

UNIVERSITY OF DAR ES SALAAM

INSTITUTE OF DEVELOPMENT STUDIES (IDS)

SEMINAR CODE: DS 112

SEMINAR HOURS: 13.00 - 14.00 HRS

SEMINAR DAY: THURSDAY, 22 DECEMBER 2022

SEMINAR VENUE: COET, BLOCK A 106

SEMINAR LEADER: HASHIM NASIBU MAHAMUDU

GROUP MEMBERS:

S/N	NAME	REG. NUMBER	COURSE	SIGNATURE
1.	HASHIM NASIBU MAHAMUDU	2022-04-05700	Bsc.CS
2.
3.

SEMINAR QUESTION:

6). Explain the necessity of mainstreaming gender in development policies and plans and discuss necessary pre-requisites for implementing successful gender policies and actions at national or institutional levels.

According to council of Europe, Gender Mainstreaming is the strategy aimed at integrating the need of all people as it is based on the fact that women are not the 'vulnerable group' as they tend to represent more than half the worlds population. Also

According to EIGE, Gender Mainstreaming is a strategy towards realizing gender equality as it involves the integration of gender perspective into the preparation, design, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of policies, regulatory measures and spending programs with a view to promoting equality between men and women and combating discrimination.

Gender mainstreaming is necessary in development policies and plans due to various reasons and some of them are as follows:

1. Helps to insure that the needs and rights of both women and men are taken into accounts in the design and implementation of development programs. This can lead to more sustainable and equitable development outcomes